Helena has refused to allow her husband, King Victor Emmanuel, to go alone to the scene of the disaster. She said she would not give up her privilege of sharing her husband's dangers and consequently both king and queen left Rome this afternoon for the south.

The royal couple arrived earlier in the day from Naples. The queen explained to a member of her entourage that she considered it her duty to do all in her power to comfort and help her afflicted subjects. The king and queen left their station here at 1:30. A number of ministers, senators and deputies, together with the mayor of Rome, were at the station to bid them farewell.

MESSAGE OF

Italy a dispatch expressing his horror and that of the American people over the dis-tional Red Cross has issued an appeal for contributions to aid the sufferers, and that organization has notified him that will immediately communicate the Italian Red Cross. As private cablegram after cublegram confirmed the frightful extent of the catastrophe, the Italian Embassy attaches freely expressed their grief. Ambassador Mayo Des Planches is hastening to Washington from New York, having loft the city for a brief rest during the holidays.

Send Sympathy.

The Red Cross Society has requested the State Department to extend to the American Ambassador expressions of sympathy from the American Society to the Italian Red Cross, and to inquire to what extent relief measures would be necessary.

The Red Cross will wait until contributions in response to the appeal sent out today, as the balance remaining in he treasury is but $2000, which will be kept in reserve for emergencies within the United States. On the occasion of the eruption of Vesuvius in 1902 thou sands of dollars were sent to Italy by the American Society.

There are no American naval vessel in the vicinity of Southern Italy. The stars at a meeting of the Boe d of Police Scorpion, which is at Constantinople, is pearer the scene of disaster than any other American naval vessel.

broke out in the devastated of ties and countless numbers of injured men, women and child ren were burned to death.

Any adequate estimate of the total casualties is as yet quite impossible, but the Rome Tribuna places the number at between sixty and seventy thousand.

The horror and destructiveness of this visitation probably will exceed that of any parthquake in Italy since 1783, when 40,000 persons perished at Messina alone.

Horror Grows Hourly

Reports of heavy loss of life are coming in every hour from city and town and nearly every village in the stricken zone, and the story in its detail has only begun to be told. The horror crows as further reports come in.

Messina has been fire-swept. The dead there alone will run into the tens of thou sands. Reggio is a sepulchre of the dead. Catania suffered heavily.

Mount Etna, the volcano on the Island of Sicily, is active. The detonations are reverberating over Catania and add to the terror. Volumes of smoke are pouring from the

The Pope has made an appeal to Roman Catholics the world over or help. He has headed the relief subscription list with a donation of $200,000.

There is consternation in Rome. The telegraph and newspaper officers are besieged by weeping crowds demanding news. Every fresh telegram tells the same story of death, destruction and desolation.

Ambassador Griscom has telegraphed to Messina and Palermo inquiring as to the fate of Arthur S. Cheney of Connecticut, the American consul, and Joseph H. Pierce, the American vice-consul at Messina. Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon no answer had been received.

ROME, Dec. 29 .--- The disaster in the Province of Calabrie and the Island of Sicily has today assumed staggering proportions. Each successive report received from the stricken region makes it more apparent that the first stories of the widespread destruction were little, if any, exaggeroted. Messina alone reports 12.000 victims, but it is feared that this is only a partial list of the dead and wounded.

Reggio Silent

Reports are coming in from other towns giving estimates of dead therein from 500 up to several thousand. Reggio still remains in its isolation. It is impossible to get word from the str cken city, and the silence gives rise to the most fearful apprehensions.

News has come from Messina, eight miles north of Reggio, but no reliable estimate made,

The Law and the Gompers Case.

Passing by what seems an excessive rigor in the sentences inflicted on Gonipers and his associates, and the apparent rancor and partisanship in the language employed by Judge Wright in passing sentence, the labor leaders and their friends are making a grievous mistake in attacking the courts and demanding that they be shorn of the power to enforce their decrees. Ours is a government of law, and law is impartial in its principles, though it is sometimes unfairly applied and its functions prostituted to private interests.

Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison refused to obey an order of court on the advice of their counsel, Alton B. Parker, former Chief Justice of New York, and the Democratic candidate for President in 1904, who argued that the statute under which the order was issued is unconstitutional and therefore void and of no effect. The case has been appealed to a higher court, and the validity of the law will be tested. In a comparatively short time we shall learn whether or not the staute under which Judge Wright acted is valid or unconstitutional. Instead of attacking the broad principles of American jurisprude ice it is wise to await developments and see if the law does not provide for a remedy for an alleged wrong.

If Judge Wright has proceeded under a statute that is void, the Federal Supreme Court will declare the fact, and the integrity of our legal system will be demonstrated and vindicated. Until the court of final resort has passed upon the issue raised by the advice given by Judge Parker to Gompers and his associates it is unwise and unjust to assail the courts in general and impeach the laws which clothe hem with authority.

Nevertheless, Judge Wright has displayed small discretion and a somewhat blunted sense of moral responsibility. He was well aware that Compers & Co. acted under the advice of one of the ablest and most distinguished lawyers in the country, a man who had held a high place in the judiciary, and he should have taken notice of the fact that the constitutionality of the statutes he was trying to enforce was in question and would ultimately have to be determined by a higher court. Hence he should have taken cognizance of the fact that the disobedience to his order was not mere contumacy and rebellion against the law, but rested on the claim that it was justified by the supreme law of the land.

Under the circumstances the punishments he inflicted are so pretation of the law and warmly insinuating that moral delinquency given six months for continuing the great railway strike of 1894, head and front of their offending, and they add that the Presiwas accompanied by much violence and disorder and a paralysis of the interests o' the whole country and jeopardized the business and fortunes of thousands who had no connection with the judges to an account before the National Executive for judicial acts dispute which provoked the strike. The sentence passed on Gompers and his associates is Draconian compared to that given Debs. There was no adequate provocation for the severity of Judge Wright He proceeded to extremities without sufficient justification and under circumstances which absolved the defendants from willful resistance to the enforcement of law. He may have acted legally, but he certainly acted unwisely. In case he acted within his author-Athens, it is older than Rome It was a place of importance when diezo, an Italian barber, was afiald to make any complaint to the authorities ity he has enforced the law in a way that makes it obnoxious and gives judicial power the color of injustice and tyranny.

Sunday Laws and Religious Liberty.

Constitutionally this republic specially recognizes no religious belief and makes no distinction between different religions; but that the inhabitants of the United States, collectively speaking, are a Christian people is impressed on our laws and institutions in many ways. Our coce of justice is modeled in accordance with the ethics of the Christian cult; the methods of administering in it are tinctured with Christian usage and ritual, and the spirit of our entire political system is impregnated with Christian doctrine. The Federal constitution guarantees to every person the free exercise of religious belief and the cites of worship he desires to observe, yet in actual everyday experience certain sects are favored by law while others labor under disabilities.

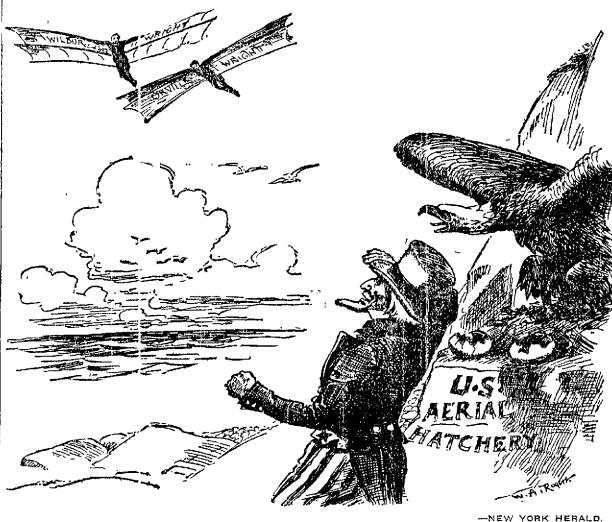

Every Sunday law is a proof of this fact. Such statutes compel universal recognition of the fact that Sunday is held to be a day of sometiments advanced to prove that one day in the week should be set aside for rest and recreation cannot obscure the fact that the basic aside for rest and recreation cannot obscure the fact that the basic idea underlying the whole scheme of restricting secular pursuits on Fiench consul general in Sur Fiancisco Sunday is religious. Fundamentally people are required to abstain and judging the present French govern from labor and business occupations on the theory that the day is ment by the past, it is safe to say that sacred and should be devoted to worship. If the desceration idea were eliminated from the public mind not a Sunday law in the land one at best, but it is pleasant to recon tould claim obedience.

. Recently the governor of Texas has undertaken to strictly enforce the Sunday law of that State, which has either been a dead quis de Lafayette, who was aking a very letter or only nominally obeyed in certain localities. The impelling in every section of the country he helped motive for his action came from a concerted movement in the churches to put an end to Sabbath desecration. In the agitation among the religious congregations not the slightest attention was majority sentiment says paid to the protense that Sunday had been set aside as a day of lest and recreation. The idea was to compel everybody regardless Select the institution you would help. Give it all the benefits of a "Tag Day," of belief or inc ination to observe Sunday as a holy day. Now the Jews, Adventists and some minor sects reverence Saturday as a holy out -- Napa Register. day, but have no more respect for Sunday than Monday; while others of no particular belief do not believe in the sanctity of any particular day. It is clear that all such are discriminated against by Sunday laws. The Sabbath of the Jew and the Adventist is not respected by the orthodox Christian, yet Jews and Christians are compelled by law to pay outward respect to the holy whether they work or not on holldays, day of Christians. This shows that we are a Christian people despite the boast that this is a land of perfect religious liberty. It is not. In a thousand ways the fact is emphasized. It is also evident that the laws which emphasize the fact smack of religious intolerance and essentially deny the religious freedom guaranteed by the constitution.

The Los Angeles Express says the mystery of William J. Biggy's death is nothing to the mystery of the failure to charge that he was a car or not, etc., etc., etc., all along the murdered at the instigation of Heney. By and by the Express will probably reach the conclusion that THE TRIBUNE, Chronicle and Examiner have charged Heney with having procured the murder of Biggy. Had B ggy not been for some time under the ban of Spreckels, Burns & Co. it' would undoubtedly have been alleged that he had been made away with by friends or agents of the higher-ups. But it has not been insinuated even that Biggy was murdered, and it is rather queer that the suggestion should have come from a paper

That strike dent only became a champion of the judiciary when a Federal judge appointed by him severely punished labor leaders who offended him trade and transportation, and hence vitally and immediately affected in the late political campaign. They might also have added that the criticisms of the President savored of an attempt to call offending performed on the bench. It is merely an instance of the inconsistency into which the President's temperamental partisanship leads him; also of making for himself a rule of conduct which he denies to other people.

MRS. METCALF PLEASED AT RELEASE FROM STRENUOUS SOCIAL DUTIES

The wear and tear, the boredom, the perfunctory howtowing, the oveted honors, the nagging annoyane the stupid platitudes, the velied jeal-ousles, the conventional fol-de-rols—are they balanced by the pleasures and profits in the Washington scale? I asked Mrs. Victor II. Metcalf, who

No More Red Tape.

No More Red Tape.

Mrs. Metcalf has bind a decade of Washington winters, divided between a society position as Representative Metcalf's wife and a society elevation as "Cabinet lady," first as wife of the secretary of commerce and labor, and later as wife of the secretary of the navy, who recently resigned. The Metcalfs have come back to California. They have burned their official bridges behind them. There isn't a scrap of red tape in their Oaldand retreat. How does it feel to be free? For, compared with the slavish stunts performed day after day by a "Cabinet lady," mountain climbing would seem gentle exercise, tennis a rest cure and broncho-busting a more compromise with enoul.

One of First Lessons.

One of the first Lessons.

"One of the first lessons to learn." sold Mrs. Metcalf, "is how to be as serious as a gravon image when the occasion requires. An appreciation of the abaurd makes this a difficult art at times. I have struggled with my instincts many a time when to smile, much to hugh outright, would have led to enmity and embarrassment.

right, would have led to enmity and embarrassment.

"But, jesting aside, the greatest, ohstacle in the path of the Cabinet lady who valuely strives to combine at least a few fleeting hours of leisure with social duty during the winter, is a physical one. Sie will find it an absolute impossibility to keep pace with official demands on her atrength and do little or may reading, studying, visiting with personal friends, mything, in fact, that the average woman in private life enjoys in the line of social recreation or mental improvement. This, of course, if she does her duty.

Should Aholish Calling.

Should Abolish Calling.

"I carried my conscience with me when I first went to Washington offer Mr. Metcal's appointment to the Cabinet, and faithfully endeavored to do what was officially required of me. This meant submission to the inexerable, antiquated and unnecessary custom of returning each and every call made upon me.

"The physical hardship this entails is too severe and should be abolished through the efforts of some one willing through the efforts of some one which to take the initiative and thereby perform a humanitarian service. I do not say this in any spirit of complaint, for my excellent health and systematic methods enabled me to survive the ormothers embred me to survive the orderal without the nervous strain so keenly feit by women not so fortunate in the matter of physique. But from the viewpoint of simple common sonse, the calling custom should be changed so far as the new arbitrary return call is con cerned. It could easily be modified by allowing the privilege to continue for the callers who desire to go in person.

ICAS, DHINE'S, RECEPTIONS.

"I would advocate a clearing house for Cabinet cards, where formality and etiquette might be duly observed, reducing the calls to a pasteboard exchange. The sheer physical exertion that this would eliminate from the wear-some winter routine of a Cabinet official's wife will be appreciated when I say that I ordered an average of 2,500 cards, and double that number of Mr. Metcat's from the engraver's each season, and ordered an average of 2,50s cards, and double that number of Mr., Metcolf's from the engraver's each season, and used them all. They did not, of course, represent that actual number of calls, as more than one card would sometimes afford leisure for rest and relaxation. afford leisure for rest and relaxation. I found it utterly impossible to read current literature other than the dally newspapers, or to follow any course of study. Those interminable calls and the usual round of teas, dinners, receptions, musicales and similar functions reduced the suttre season to a mathematical computation of time." Loses Sight of Husband.

Loses Sight of Husband.

"How does a Cabinet wife manage to keep up an acquaintance with her husband?" I inquired.

"She doesn't! Do you wender that I im glad to get back to California, my native state, where my real home is, and to enjoy again, without interruption, my, husband and family?"

"But the national society game, Mrs. Metealf. Is it worth the candle?"

"Yes, most emphatically, when one remembers the priceless friendships that one makes, and the many, many opportunities for meeting the most interesting geople in the world's affairs. These repay for all the penalties of prominence."

"What about Cabinet housekeeping?"

"Reform is needed in official house-acceping also," replied Mrs. Metealf. "It is extremely difficult to find in Washington an establishment within yeasonable distance of social centers and at a remonable rental. I searched diligently for three months before I secured a suitable love. For formula nitarialize. sonable rettal. I searched alligently for three months before I secured a suitable house for formal entertaining. Mrs. Easywork-" fack and I went to the theatre last night. It was fine."

Mrs. Careworn-"And I suppose your wash got a lick and a promise. Any woman who does her work right is too tired to no out Monday night."

Anty Drudge—"N, she didn't let her work go! I'll tell you what she id. She used Fels-Naptha soap which does the work in half the time and doesn't give a backache in loing it."

Here are two ways of washing. Choose for yourself:

The Old Way. Get up at 5 o'clock. Make hot fire, fill the washboiler and get it. boiling. Wet your white clothes, soap them and put them into the boiler. When they're boiled good and tender, rub them hard on the wishboard, meanwhile putting others in to boil. Keep the fire good and hot. It will fill the house with nauseous steam but that's necessary in this kind of washing. We en noon comes, if the smellof boiling clothes hasn't taken your appetite, snatch a bite of cold lunch. When you have the clothes boiled and rubbed sufficiently, wring them out, go from the steaming hot room into the cool air outside and hang them on the line. You'll likely catch cold, but it must be done.

The New Way. Get up at 7 o'clock summer and winter. Wet all your clothes, soap well with Fels-Naptha and let them soak in cool or lukewarm water for 30 minutes. Then rub lightly, rinse well and hang out to dry. That's all. And your clothes will be cleaner, whiter and purer than you could get them in any other way. The whole washing takes only a few hours.

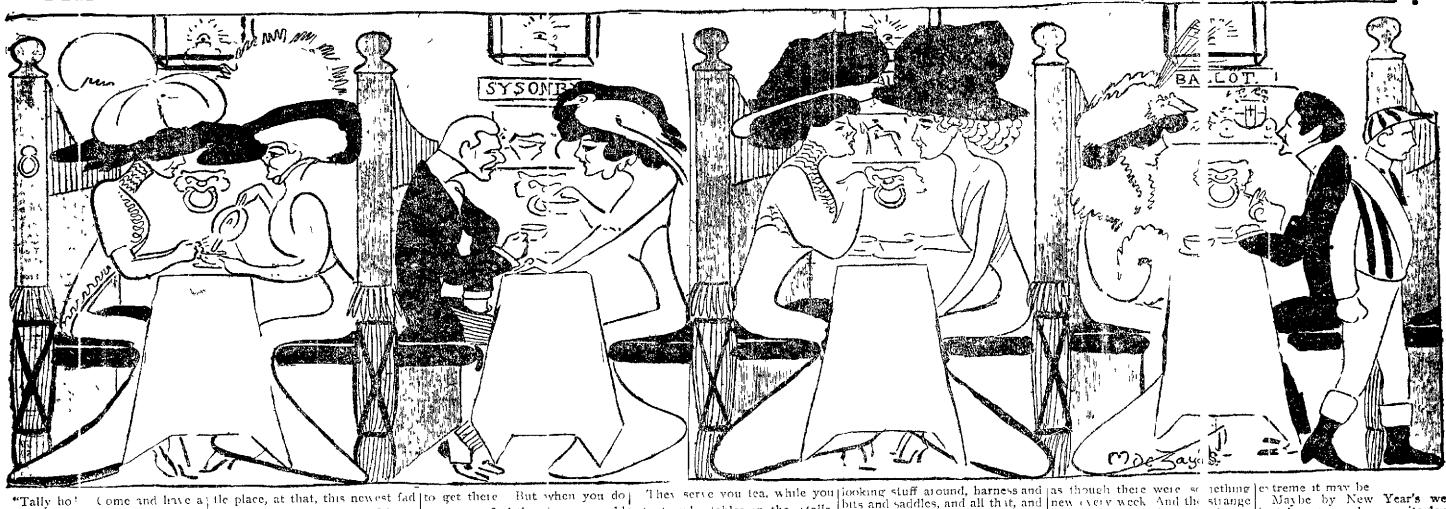

Which way sounds best to you?

In using Fels-Naptha, follow simple directions printed on the red and green wrapper, Superior Judge Brown Declares That Penitentiary Is the Place For Such Offenders as Prisoner.

Thomas Driscoll, partner in crime with George Gross, who was sentenced to eight years in San Quentin yesterday, was sent to the same penitentiary this morning by Superior Judge Brown for six years. The Superior Judge Brown for six years. The pair confessed to breaking into the store of pair confessed to breaking into the store of Fred I. Welmere at Thirty-first street and San Pablo avenue on the night of December 9. Driscill is 22 years old and, like Gross, came out from the Flast several months ago to work as a car repairer for the Southern Facific at Sacrumento. In passing sentence on the young man Judge Brown told him that a crime such as he had committed was one of the worst that is now menacing society, masmuch as a burglar goes into a house at night time, he goes with more than the mere intent to steal. If a watchman or anybody attempts to molest him he is ready to shoot and kill in his effort to creape, and the judge.

May Get Parole.

Though imposing a heavy sentence, Judge Brown holds that the young man can behave hi nself in prison and in time be released on a parole

A parole off cer travels about the State keeping a record of the man's character who thus sectres his liberty. If he is law-abiding he can remain out. In the event that he again commits orime there is no expense in the State or county for another trial. The man who breaks his parole is taken back to the penitentiary and must complete his term.

Judge Brown said that this system is the best to curb the men who stant out in Management.

best to curb the men who start out in life by committing serious crimes and is cheaper to the State for the reason that it places a cleck on criminals and does away with so many trials for second of-lenders.

CALIFORNIA TO WAGE WAR ON THRIPS PEST

An earnest and bitter fight will be wand in California against the thrips pest that has been ravaging the fruit trees for a year and a half. The work of the California State Board of Trade in securing an additional appropriation for the purpose of enlarging the force of experts now in the field promises to achieve a very satisfactory result. Secretary of griedliture Wilson, whose recommendations to congress for the appropriation will be passed upon by that body in a recent letter to Senator George C. Perkins says that he will recommend that an increased appropriation be made for the fight against the thrips. Following is his letter in part. "It is my intention to allot increased funds to the inestigation of the California thrips, in case congress grants the increased appropriation contained in my estimates. It will not be possible, however, either the committee on agriculture of the Senate, or the same committee of the Senate, or the same committee of the House, should ask my opinion as to the desirability of a further appropriation for this purpose, facts have recently come to my attention contenting the seriousness of the past which would incline me to recommend that such an appropriation be made."

is in existence, and forget all the fair ones that keep you up at night, and forget that you are somewhat of a fashion plate for the boys to look at, and last, but not by any reems least of all, you must once more go back to the end, plain corn beef and cabbage diet with a bit of the good old reast beef thrown in at the side and forget that you ever ate a Weish rarebit.

Now, what would we think of Sam getting back into the game? Let's see what he't have to start with. He would have almost as much, if not just as much, eleveness with the gives as Jack Johnson ins. He would have an underiable gameness, which was proven by the fight with Kaufman, when he fought on in such a fatigued condition that he could hardly lift his hands.

Knows the Game

sure that Big Al will win, that they are betting even money that he will do the tick hadde of twenty rounds. Defancy, in talking over the chances of his protege, and the other day that he felt sure Kaufman would be able to hit Barry easier than any of the men that he has met during the past year, and that just so euro its Kaufman was able to hit a man he was sure to go out.

Delancy has great confidence in the hitting power of the coming fighter, and when he saw Barry fight and realized how easy it was to hit him, he said thet no matter how tough he was that Kaufman would beat him, for just the reason that he would be able at hit him with the right punch inished as was Al kauman the night he fought Sam Berger, and in this both Kaufman and Delaney will agree.

There is just one thing that Sam is lacking in and that is the condition. If, however, Sam will make up his mind to go back into the game, and he will go to the mountains and rough it like many other fighters have and come lack to

NEW YORW, Dec. 20,—Opening prices today advanced on attive trailing but the gains were generally restricted to small fractions. Stocks in which they exceeded that figure were American Suching and New Have, which ross 1, Northwestern 3, and Northern Pheific, New York Contral, Nortolk and Western, Atlantic Const Line, Wabash preferred, and Western, Atlantic Const Line, Wabash preferred, Southern Railway preferred and Color do Fuel large fractions. There was some irregularity during the first hour, in which a large volume of stocks exchanged hands within parrow limits. Friess were inclined to yield r. 11 o'clock. This selling to take profits carled some stocks which have been strongest recently a point or more below last night. There were partial recoveries and fresh advances in sweathless.

Interest in the market decreased and a period of dulinoss ensued. About the only movement of importance centered in the Wabash and Wisconstin Custral stocks.

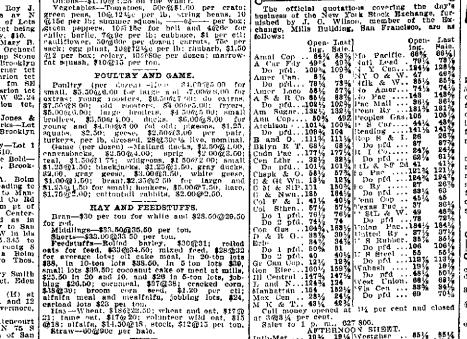

A slight fail in prices attended the extreme duliness into which the market felt. Traders were very learly uf puring out short lines and the demand was also very seasity. The market closed weak and active. Large amounts of Indice States Stot changed hands up to 55% and this started prices appeared.

Miss Millicent Wood has returned to her home in San Francisco after a few thays' visit with her grandmother, Mrs. W. Hibbard.

Mrs. F. Schoenstedt prizes very highly a Christmas letter of greetings and a picture of Agantus von Abbou Houcharenko and wife, the Russian exile, who makes his home at Uprania, a modest cilitule place in the hills back of Hayward.

A telephone massage bearing the news of the death of Mrs. O'Sullivan in Oakland cast much gloom over her friends in Decoto. For several summers the O'Sullivan family have camped near town and made many friends, who extend their deepest sympathy to the bereaved family. Services were hold in the Catholic Church on Christmas morning and a large number of people attended the mass delivered by Father Gaverno.

A wedding which united two of the most popular young people of this place was solemnized on Thursday at high noon at the Catholic Church in Centerville, when Miss Minnie Mellow became the bride of Jack Duarte. After the ceremony the voung people returned to Decoto to the home of the bride, where a wedding breakfast was served and congratulations were in store. The bride word a beautiful dress of white lace, over white silk not a long bride. Both they will reside in home that Duarte has just propared for life bride. Both the young people have lived in Decoto and atended the nubble school and start out in life with the very best wishes of a large circle of friends. Captain A. F. Frent of Mol.

MELROSE, Dec. 29.—Thomas Moora of Montecello avenue, is firmly convinced that half the people of Alameda county are victims of bicycle thfeves. Since the publication of a story in the Tribune a few days ago to the effect that a strange man had left a valuable wheel in his possession and had never claimed it, he has been deluged with latters of inquiry from Cultiand, Alameda, Berkeley and Brooklyn Township. About 300 such letters have been received by Moore within the last three days, and the bewildered man says that if the letters keep on coming in, he will be obliged to bire a stenographer to take care of his correspondence.

Culters, too, have visited his house by the score in an effort to locate lost, strayed or stolen bicycles. Thus far, no one has claimed ownership of the wheel.

Several days ago a well-dressed stranwheel.

Several days ago a well-dressed stranger left the bleycle in the possession of Moore's little daughter, who was playing in the front yard of her home at the time. The man walked toward the bills, and it is believed that the man was trying to escape from justice and did not want to be encumbered with the bicycle when he left it with the child.

GRAND JURY FLAYS BANK COMM SSIONER YOUNG EAGLE CAPTURED

NAPA Dec 29—The 1968 Napa. Grand Jury adjourned vesterday afternoon after a six months session. In final report has this to say relative to the Bank of Calletora failure. Was tourd & distress. has this to say relative to the Hank of Calistora failure. We found & distress ing situation. It is eviden to us that not all so called frenzied finunce is practiced in great cities. We cannot too strongly condemn the course of the Bank Commissioners in letting this banks affiles slide carelessly uong without an proper investigation even willed the bank was befur closed opened and closed again by order of the commissioners. The commissioners appear to have been entirely indifferent to the trail cinditions there. We firmly lelle to hat the loss which has been a fleid on lid have been averted if any proper supervision had been exercised by the commissioners as contemplated by stitute.
